Prédoc postmaster programme

The EUR IPSL-Climate Graduate School has set up a unique three-month pre-doctoral programme, dedicated to M2 students who are accepted for a PhD in one of the IPSL laboratories.

“Prédoc” programme has the form of a part-time contract that usually starts on the first of October. With the help of a tutor appointed by the EUR IPSL CGS training committee and in agreement with their thesis supervisor, the selected student establish a personalized programme that enables them, for example, to:

- Prepare their upcoming thesis work to come through adhering necessary additional training courses, starting a bibliography and attending conferences or workshops
- tutor M1 or M2 students
- Take part in meetings organized by the EUR IPSL-CGS, with other future doctoral students and with the academic tutor
- Produce an activity report at the end of the contract (template provided)
- Possibly finalise the M2 internship work (publication for example).
